Instructions to execute

The zip file Group_17.zip contains this readme and a reliable.zip file. Extract the zip file and follow the following steps:

1. Open the extracted reliable folder in a code editor preferably VS code.
2. Then, open two terminal windows, and write chmod a+x run.sh on both the terminals to give permission to the shell script.
3. Then, write ./run.sh on both the terminals and a reliable connection between the server and the client would be setup.
4. Next, give in all the messages to be sent to the server from the client and observe the sending and receiving of segments (ack or data packets on both the sides). I have used print_pkt function in the rib.c to print this info.
5. The code satisfies all the requirements.
